Extra AIDA enjoyment: World voyage cruises in spring 2014

Varied, relaxing, fascinating, exceptional: That's AIDA world voyage cruises between February and April 2014. The Caribbean island of Barbados, Dubai, or Cochin in India are just some of the departure points.

On a world voyage cruise with AIDA, there's plenty of time to enjoy all that is offered on board. Jogging in the morning, a hearty snack in the brewery, cocktail workshops, unwinding in the wellness oasis, and fun shows in the evening quickly make daily cares vanish. Guests can find an astounding culinary variety in the up to seven restaurants on board AIDA – nearly around the clock. Sports enthusiasts can play volleyball, work out, or do yoga. Diverse excursions at the destinations top it all off.

What's special: These cruises are joined by guest artists. Comedy stars, painters and lecturers interact directly with guests. In addition, a number of different workshops on fitness and health are offered.

AIDAluna will leave the Caribbean on March 23, 2014, and cross the Atlantic. On this cruise, AIDA guests can personally meet the painters Malte Brekenfeld, Rando Geschewski and Thomas Gatzemeier. Barbados is the place of departure. After relaxing days at sea, AIDAluna will reach the Canary Islands. Following a stop at the island of flowers, Madeira, the cruise continues to Porto in Portugal and La Coruna, and then finally arrives in Hamburg.

Guests can travel to Asia and the Mediterranean with AIDAaura, for example on March 31, 2014: The ship will travel from Cochin in India across the Suez Canal to Europe. Here, Cyprus and Israel await explorers. The journey ends in Antalya.

For those who book cruises in spring with AIDAaura, AIDAbella, AIDAcara, AIDAdiva, AIDAluna, AIDA sol and AIDAvita by December 16, 2013, AIDA is additionally offering up to 200 euros in onboard credit per stateroom (for 2-person occupancy).

The AIDA world voyage cruises and arrival-/departure packages can be booked at your travel agency, online at www.aida.de, or with AIDA Customer Center at +49 (0) 381 / 20 27 07 07.
